Junior Day Activities

Registration 8am

Master Classes 9am-12noon

Students will be involved in the following:

- Master Class with Dennis Alexander: He will hear Juniors play his compositions.
- Master Class with Weekley and Arganbright: They will hear Juniors play any duets by various composers.
- Orff Student Workshop: Juniors will experience various music-making activities through the Orff Method.
- Piano Orchestra led by Susan Ogilvy. Juniors and teachers are invited to play. The Clavinova Digital Orchestra offers new musical opportunities for piano students. Playing music specifically written for this medium, piano students play various orchestral sounds, emulating the articulations and inflections of their respective instrument voice. It raises the bar on their musicianship level as they must count several measures of rest and then enter correctly, follow a conductor for team tempos (including ritardandos!), and play their notes and rhythms accurately while hearing a variety of other part sounds and rhythms. Shaping the musical phrase as a group is an activity pianists rarely experience, so preparation for collaborative music making is another attribute of this 21st century venue. Plus, it is fun!
- Pizza Party 12noon
- Piano Orchestra Concert 4pm

Piano Orchestra Registration: YES / NO

Each group will perform 3 pieces. You will receive your part in the mail after your registration is received. Juniors and Teachers prepare their pieces in advance. Please be ready to play confidently with the music at the rehearsals. The director will only be polishing the ensemble of the group. Group A is similar to method book level 1 and so forth up to teacher level in increasing difficulty. Susan recommends that Juniors be in grade 4 and above (school age). Performers must be at rehearsals. Each person's part is important since this is ensemble music.
